Because He Lives

Evidences of the Resurrection

- Everything hinges on the resurrection.
  - 1 Corinthians 15:12-19
- 1. The empty tomb was discovered by women.

  - Acts 17:30-32
- I can have hope!
  - Romans 6:1-11

A photograph of the interior of a tomb. The walls are made of rough, brown earth. On the right side, a white shroud is draped over a ledge. On the left, a set of stone steps leads up to an opening in the wall. Through this opening, a bright outdoor scene is visible, featuring a large, gnarled tree and a clear blue sky. The text "Because He Lives" is overlaid in the center in a bold, yellow font with a black outline.
